ABOUT THE DEAKIN LAW REVIEW

SUBMISSIONS

The Deakin Law Review is a leading Australian refereed law journal, published twice annually. Contributions of articles, case notes and book reviews for publication are welcome at any time. Contributions should be submitted electronically via the Law Review's on-line submission procedure at: <<http://www.deakinlawreview.org/contribute.php>>.

All submitted articles, case notes and book reviews are reviewed by at least one independent referee and the editorial committee. The Deakin Law Review ensures that each referee engaged is a recognised expert in the area of law(s) covered in the article. As legal issues are often very topical, the Deakin Law Review guarantees that all submissions will be reviewed and assessed within one month of receipt.

STYLE GUIDE

The Deakin Law Review adheres to the second edition of the Australian Guide to Legal Citation (Melbourne University Law Review Association Inc, Melbourne) and submissions must conform to this Guide.

A Quick Reference Guide can be downloaded by visiting the 'contributions' section of the Deakin Law Review website at <<http://www.deakinlawreview.org/contribute.php>>, and then clicking on 'Our Citation Requirements Sheet'.
